

SalesTouch Case Study:

One Canal Apartment Homes REAL-TIME AVAILABILITY & PRICING

The Company:

One Canal Apartment Homes by Aimco is an adaptive reuse community in Boston's downtown Bulfinch Triangle Historic District. The high-end multifamily property provides residents with a variety of amenities that include a rooftop pool, fitness center and pet spa. One Canal is centrally located near some of the best shopping, dining and entertainment. It is close to employment centers with the Financial District and a U.S. top rated hospital within a mile away. The property offers studio and 1- to 3-bedroom units with city views and premium finishes.

Marketing Objective:

One of Aimco's marketing objectives for One Canal was to create an interactive leasing office experience that encourages prospective tenants to explore the community and surrounding neighborhood. SalesTouch was selected to engage visitors as they immerse themselves in a visually pleasing presentation of floor plans, interior and city views, amenity highlights and local neighborhood points of interest. The interactive presentation was designed for a large free-standing kiosk, but Aimco also leverages the presentation with the addition of iPads.

Inventory at a multifamily, for lease property varies from that of a for sale community in that it is ongoing and constantly in flux. A top objective for One Canal was to provide real-time pricing and up-to-date availability. The SalesTouch presentation uses 3rd party data integration and acts as a leasing office assistant, always providing potential tenants the most current pricing and available units.
